JUSTICE WRIGHT DESERVES IMPEACHMENT SAYS GOMPERS

He So Declares Before Senate Committee In Connection With Contempt Case—Labor Leader Reiterates Statement That He Will Not Apologize—Discusses Other Labor Matters.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, today declared to the Senate committee appointed to consider the administration of the law by several officials that Justice Wright of the district supreme court deserved impeachment. The dramatic incident occurred when the man who had been sentenced to a year in jail for contempt of court began to assert his views of the court that had imposed the sentence. He had reviewed at some length the proceedings in contempt.

"Several phases of this case will furnish a subject of profitable inquiry by this committee," President Gompers contended. "Whether or not impeachment proceedings can be brought against this judge is a question. He deserves it, I have no doubt."

"Then that ought to be your remedy," suggested Senator Borah, a member of the investigating committee.

President Gompers took occasion to renew his statement that he would not apologize to the court for his action, upon which contempt proceedings were based. He told the committee frankly that the committee had reported that they had discovered sufficient grounds to hold three officials of the American Federation of Labor, but explained that the alternative of an apology had been suggested. "I am not ready to apologize for trying to help a poor devil in his work, giving the breath that is in him and getting so little for it," the labor union leader shouted to the committee. "I am not conscious of having done any wrong or having violated any law."

Just before the conclusion of the hearing President Gompers asked that the attorneys for the labor officials be heard on the legal phases of the matter and the committee expressed its willingness to hear the lawyers.

Getting down to the case of John J. McNamara, President Gompers declared that he was taken from his home State without a proper hearing and without an opportunity of consulting with counsel, despite the fact that such an opportunity was demanded by the suspect, who was taken bodily and placed in an automobile and taken at a breakneck speed to Terre Haute, held until train time and rushed to California, being placed on several trains during his trip.

President Gompers contended that the extradition laws of Indiana required that the person involved should be taken before a court of competent jurisdiction and that it be there shown that he is the person to be extradited, and that he is a fugitive from justice.

During the hearings in court Mr. Gompers said that McNamara had asked opportunity to consult with counsel but that the request was refused. The whole affair seemed to have been slanted, remarked Mr. Gompers.

President Gompers complained of the growing amount of litigation that was involved in the union labor. The cost of defending its rights, he said, was very great and soon union labor will be unable to raise the money to defend itself in accordance with law. "If we cannot raise funds because workmen and working women have too small incomes we will have to give up the defense of ourselves," he commented, "and stand shorn in our defenseless position."

Atwood Will Fly Today.

Special to Telegram.

Atlantic City, July 8.—Harry N. Atwood at 4 o'clock this afternoon announced that he had postponed the Washington flight until tomorrow. The delay in the arrival of the new machine which is being towed here from New Britain, Conn., caused the postponement.

COLT EXCITED OVER REPORT OF DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS.

Special to Telegram.

New York, July 8.—The report in Los Angeles that Ethel Barrymore Colt had instituted proceedings for a divorce against him was said by Russell Criswell Colt today to be "news to me." When seen today the young millionaire was greatly excited over the report.

LORIMER WILL NOT GIVE UP FIGHT IF EXPELLED

Friends Say That In That Event He Will Go Before People of Illinois For Reelection—Indifferent as to Result of Investigation.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—The Lorimer case will not half be ended if the Senate of the United States expels him from its midst. Senator Lorimer will not cease to fight for his seat. This may be accepted as settled. Close friends of the senator say that in event he is expelled he will unquestionably go before the people of the State of Illinois and seek a reelection to the Senate for the purpose of getting vindication as well as the senatorship.

Lorimer's whole record is that of a man who does not know when he is beaten and who has a way of rescuing victory from seeming certain defeat. Right now there is not much question as to what the Senate would do if the Lorimer case were voted upon. It would say he was not entitled to a seat. When the investigating committee first started work it hoped to finish this session, but it will not finish probably until next September. Lorimer's friends think that by next winter sentiment may have in some measure changed.

One of the strange things about the whole affair is the seeming complete indifference of Lorimer. If his nerves are wearing themselves down to an edge he does not in anyway show it. He takes the entire affair blindly and easily. He does not get mad about anything and even in privacy among his friends he is said to be as indifferent about the matter as he appears in public.

CUMMINS

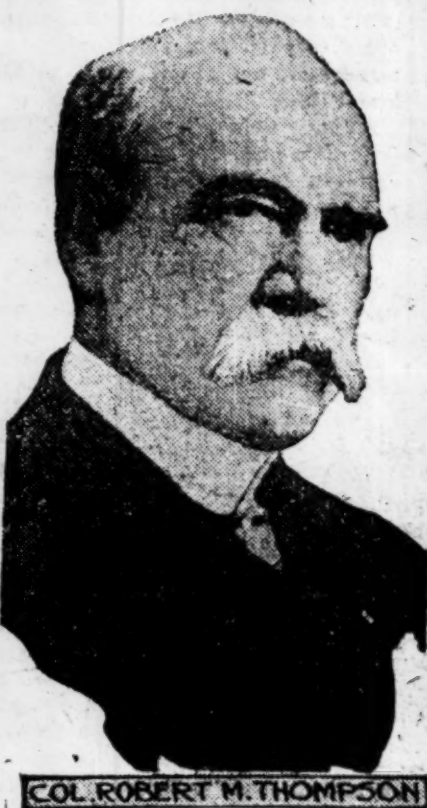

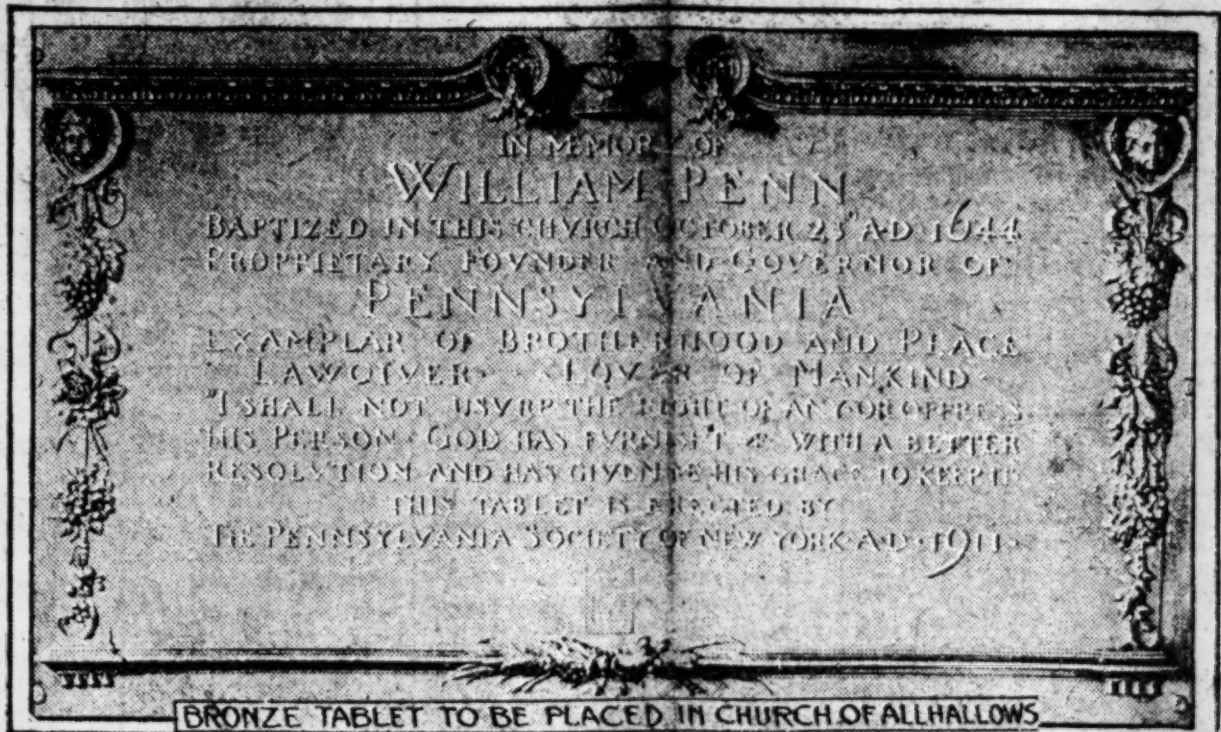

Amendment to Reciprocity Bill Was Voted Down by Senate Yesterday.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—The Senate today defeated 14 to 32 the Cummins amendment to the Canadian reciprocity bill, to add meats to the free list. The vote on the amendment was taken after a quorum of the Senate had been secured. Senator Bailey immediately moved an adjournment.

"It is apparent that we are doing business here with a bare quorum," he said, "and I think we ought to let these votes go over." An agreement was finally reached carrying all other votes on the Cummins and Simmons amendments over until next Monday. The Senate was about to vote for the free flour amendment when the agreement was effected. The Senate adjourned until Monday.

Pennsylvania Society of New York Will Place Tablet to William Penn's Memory In London Church.

COL. ROBERT M. THOMPSON

INTERIOR OF CHURCH OF ALL HALLOWS

The Pennsylvania Society of New York has sent representatives to London to place a tablet to the memory of William Penn in the Church of All Hallows, Barking. This church, which dates back to medieval times, is the only building left standing in London which is definitely associated with Penn's birth, as it was in this edifice that he was baptized, the certificate of that ceremony being still preserved. Colonel Robert M. Thompson, president of the Pennsylvania Society of New York, will preside at an International William Penn dinner in London on the evening of July 13, the date of the unveiling of the tablet.

LITTLE GIRL STRUCK BY BICYCLE WAS PAINFULLY INJURED

The little ten year old daughter of J. R. Moorefield was run down and painfully injured by a young negro on a bicycle yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The negro, whose name is Milton Taylor and who is about 18 years of age, was riding along South Elm street immediately in front of C. H. Dorsett's store when he accidentally hit the child. She lay still in the street as if seriously wounded and the crowd of bystanders that quickly gathered, not knowing the extent of her injuries, was decidedly unfriendly to the boy. They called for his arrest and Magistrate J. Garsley Fowler took the negro in charge and locked him up in the county jail but he was later released at the request of Mr. Moorefield, who is the employer of the boy, when he found that his child was only slightly injured.

Taylor was riding at a furious pace when the little girl darted from the sidewalk in an attempt to reach the other pavement. She did not see the imminent danger and the rider was unable to dodge her. The wheel struck her squarely and she was knocked with great force to the ground. She seemed at first to be critically hurt but after being carried home and having the wounds dressed they proved to be very slight, though painful for a short while. Her arms and shoulders were skinned in several places and she was otherwise bruised, but will be completely recovered shortly.

The negro is a trip boy for Mr. Moorefield's meat stall in the city market, and it is a singular coincidence that he should injure his employer's child. He was released from custody about 9 o'clock and will be tried in the near future in Magistrate Fowler's court.

SENATE Considers Bill Providing For Great Volunteer Army In Time of War.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—A bill providing for a great volunteer army in time of war was today considered by the Senate. It makes every citizen of suitable age and qualifications eligible for military service. The relations between the government and the national guard are not changed or affected. Provision is made for a volunteer force to be called out by the President in the event of hostilities. The bill was introduced by Senator Reed, of Missouri.

LAD DROWNED FRIDAY NEAR WILMINGTON

Special to Telegram.

Wilmington, July 8.—David Harris, the 13-year-old son of R. O. Harris, of Castle Hayne, near here, lost his life while in swimming in a mill pond on the Northeast river near Castle Hayne yesterday afternoon. The body was recovered this morning by his older brother, John Harris, with a fish hook and line. The lad had just recovered from a severe attack of measles and it is thought that death was caused from heart trouble.

WORK MAY CEASE ON SOUTHERN END OF INTERURBAN

Charlotte, July 8.—The engineers who have been locating the proposed interurban line between Greenville and Spartanburg have been taken off the job pending a meeting of the directors of the Piedmont & Northern Railway Company which will be held at Greenville, July 20. That meeting has been called for the purpose of considering the advisability of cancelling the contract with W. J. Oliver & Company for the grading and construction of the line and it is learned that the probability is that the contract will be cancelled.

The promoters of the interurban have been experiencing many difficulties in the way of securing franchises, rights of way and terminal facilities at Spartanburg and other places on the stretch between Greenville and Spartanburg and are considerably discouraged regarding that part of the project. The line between those two cities would be the costliest on the entire system, on account of the heavy bridges and heavy grading necessary and with other sections clamoring for lines and offering all sorts of inducements and encouragement the promoters do not feel like spending large sums of money to build a line through a territory in which the line is apparently not very badly wanted.

It is probable that if the contract for the line between Greenville and Spartanburg is cancelled that the engineers who have been working on that section will be immediately transferred to the section of the interurban system above Charlotte and that as soon as these surveys are completed the contract for the building of the line from Charlotte north will be let.

FOUR DEAD AND FOURTEEN BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED

Steamship Goes Ashore On Pacific Coast and Is Dashed to Pieces On Breakers—Passengers Transferred to Shore With Difficulty Through Breakers—Dead Were of Ship's Crew.

Special to Telegram.

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 8.—According to a statement made tonight by F. Carlton, purser of the steamship Santa Rosa, which went on the rocks yesterday, fourteen passengers have not as yet been accounted for. There were more than 200 passengers on board the ship and 120 had been accounted for. Owing to the confusion of the scene of the disaster accurate information was hard to secure.

It is known that E. Heuson, second officer; Fred Johnson, John Paiffer and E. W. Jebson, seamen, were drowned when a boat taking a load of passengers from the ill-fated vessel to the shore capsized. Owing to the fact that darkness had fallen it was not known whether all the women passengers were rescued from the angry waters.

The steamer went ashore just before dawn at the mouth of the Honda creek and it is supposed that the pilot mistook a searchlight used by railroad employees for the Point Arguello light-house.

When the steamer struck the sea was calm and the passengers begged to be allowed to go ashore. However, Captain Paris believed that he could float the ship and would not permit any passengers to leave. Later the wind rose and the breakers began running dangerously high. Seeing that the ship could not survive lifeboats were launched and the majority of the passengers transferred. Towards the last, however, the sea became so violent that several lifeboats and rafts were capsized or dashed to pieces. At 5:30 in the afternoon a heavy swell cracked the ship and at 6 o'clock it went ashore.

Relief Train to Scene.

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 8.—The relief train bearing the rescued passengers of the wrecked steamship Santa Rosa arrived in Santa Barbara today and discharged a pitiful freight of hysterical women and half-clad shivering men. Suffering and privation were written plainly on the faces of all and it will be weeks and in some cases months before some of the victims recover.

Many were too weak to leave the cars unassisted and a half a dozen had to be carried from the train on stretchers. Hardly one of the passengers was fully clothed. The greater part of them were wrapped in blankets.

The rescued passengers were for the most part too wrought up to talk coherently of their nerve-racking experience. A few of the cooler spirits, however, were able to give a brief word picture of the wreck, the long suspense on the crumbling ship as it crunched to pieces beneath them on the rocks and the terrifying passage through the boiling surf to safety on the beach.

No one will be able to tell accurately for some time how many lives were lost, was the opinion expressed this morning by three survivors who insist they saw one woman swept from a life boat and drowned.

They say that many more might have perished in the numerous upsets that marked the journeys of the life rafts to the shore.

BIG SAWMILL NEAR FAYETTEVILLE BURNED

Special to Telegram.

Fayetteville, July 8.—The sawmill plant of the Southern Lumber Company at Lane, 13 miles north of this city, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The plant is situated near the line of the Raleigh & Southport Railway and the fire being discovered just after the passing of a southbound R. & S. train the owners of the mill claim that sparks from the railway engine started the flames. The loss is estimated to be between $15,000 and $20,000, with no insurance. The fire delayed a northbound train on the Raleigh & Southport for an hour, as it carried a carload of matches and the conductor was afraid to pass in close proximity to the burning mill. Three hundred thousand feet of lumber was destroyed.

EX-GOVERNOR OF NEVADA IS CHARGED WITH FELONY

Arrested Yesterday On Indictment In Connection With Failure of Bank of Which He Was Director--Other Bank Officials Arrested Also.

ALASKA

Coal Land Scandal Will be Investigated by House Committee at Once.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—Immediate investigation of the alleged scandal in connection with the granting of rights of way on Controller Bay, Alaska, in which it is charged that Charles P. Taft, the President's brother, is concerned, was today decided upon by the House committee on expenditures in the interior department and a subpoena was issued, returnable Monday, for Commissioner of the General Land Office Fred Bennett. Apart from this line of inquiry Representative Cox of Indiana, today introduced a resolution in the House, demanding of the President all facts in connection with the land grant.

Special to Telegram.

Reno, Nevada, July 8.—Former Governor Denver S. Dickerson was taken in custody today under a felony charge as a result of secret indictments made by the Eureka county grand jury in connection with the failure of the Eureka County bank which closed its doors last March. Dickerson was chairman of the old banking board and other members Sam Belford, State Senator Charles Sprague, and A. B. Witcher were all arrested under bench warrants by State police. The jury's report severely criticized the board for the notorious failure of the directors in protecting the depositors of the bank and censured the bank officials, who were also arrested. Great excitement prevails throughout the State.

ATTACK NINE-HOUR LAW.

Manufacturers Will Test Recent Legislation for Women.

Columbus, O., July 8.—Ohio manufacturers today brought suit attacking the nine-hour work day law for women, contending that it is faulty because it does not apply to those employed in dry goods and many other retail stores, while it does affect those working in millinery establishments.

SOME POLITICAL POINTERS FROM REPUBLICAN SOURCES.

Senator Clark of Wyoming, recently said to the stand-pat Republican Senators:

"You are turning the grindstone to sharpen the scythe that will put the hide of protection on the fence all over the country. You are opening the tent and the camel's head will be in, and it will not be very long before the camel will be in and you will be out, my Republican friends."

"I do not wonder that our Democratic friends are enthusiastically and almost unanimously in favor of this pact. They have not been able to do for fifty years what we are going to do here in thirty days. We are doing their work for them. We are wiping protection from the statute books. We are using the club that will kill our protected interests. We are doing it ourselves, and it is no wonder they feel pleasant and are agreeable to join in the operation."

If that be true, and there is every reason to believe it is, why should any Democrat who believes in reduction of the tariff fail to start the ball to rolling by voting for the treaty with Canada?

In the last issue of the Saturday Evening Post is an article on "La Follette's Ideas," and in that article Senator La Follette is quoted as saying:

"Mark the inevitable result! Senators are elected to represent their States. They delegate their authority to the chairman of a caucus, and that authority is re-delegated and delegated again until it works out finally in the selection of committees controlled by a few bosses who dominate all the legislation of the United States Senate. The power of these bosses is felt in every home—it is a strong hand laid upon every business. It wipes four-fifths of the States off the map and makes mere dummies of their representatives in the Senate."

"And it is a bi-partisan control. Whenever there is a legislative question before the Senate which is not purely political in its nature—for instance, a tariff schedule—it is possible for privilege to combine its Senators of both parties. Whenever Senator Aldrich found himself in a tight place he could reach across the aisle and secure sufficient Democratic support to sustain him. A notable illustration of this was the vote to reduce the duty upon saved lumber. The Democratic platform had declared for free lumber, yet eleven of the twenty-three Democrats who voted upon this question—nearly one-half—stepped across the aisle and voted with Mr. Aldrich against lowering the duty; whereas, if they had taken a stand with the progressive Republicans, the vote would have stood thirty-seven in favor and thirty-three against, and would have resulted in a lower duty on lumber."

"Now take the vote upon the question of seating William Lorimer. Had it not been that eleven Democrats joined with the reactionary Republicans there would be no necessity to consume the time of the Senate at this session with a discussion of this case. The vote upon the resolution to declare the Lorimer seat vacant was: yeas, forty; nays, forty-six; and of the eleven Democrats who helped to make the majority, five were of the same group that aided Mr. Aldrich in defeating the effort to lower the duty upon lumber."

"This bi-partisan combination exists—it operates in the Senate. It is more important to the people of the country that they study closely this combination at the present time than it has ever been in the past."

It was announced several days ago that the cool wave was coming, but everybody is getting mighty impatient waiting for it.

A safe and sane Fourth makes no business for the physicians and the undertakers, but it makes a great saving of money and of trouble for other classes of people.

Greenville Piedmont wonders if The Telegram had a safe and sane Fourth. As the Piedmont did not reach our office on that day, there was nothing to drive up to do anything rash.

The Durham Herald directs attention to a fact which has been noted in many places, saying that when some people can find no other defense for a blind tiger they criticize the means used to catch him.

The Raleigh News and Observer denies responsibility for the hot weather, claiming that it makes it hot only for law breakers and those who do wrong. The Weather Man is not so considerate. He makes it hot for all classes of people alike.

There is war in the Republican camp in Alabama—or in the Republican camps—as there are two camps of Republicans in that State, as in most other States. The cause of the Alabama war is pie, the most common disturbing element in Republican politics in the South.

The fund raised in Baltimore for the purpose of securing the next Democratic Convention was over-subscribed. It was announced that $100,000 was needed and the citizens of Baltimore proceeded to raise more than the necessary sum. This indicates that Baltimore is in earnest about wanting the convention.

The weathr has been too hot for fly swatting, and most people have been content to allow flies to wander at will—and the way they have been wandering in Greensboro shows just how active the flies of this city are even when the heat is the hottest in the history of the country.

It is said that a Richmond man killed himself because he could not stand prosperity. This is more evidence of the fact that everybody ought to live in Greensboro, where prosperity is so common that it does not cause a man to become insane when he has a line of unusually good business.

That railroad to Roxboro, Oxford and Henderson is going to be constructed. Greensboro business men are behind this movement to a finish and they are going to receive able assistance from the people of the counties through which it is proposed to build the road and from the people of the towns mentioned above.

Spartanburg Herald does not believe that Champ Clark is in the running for the Democratic nomination for President, and thinks his boom is confined largely to members of Congress who are trying to create Clark sentiment by interviews such as that given out in Spartanburg by Senator Taylor of Tennessee.

Spartanburg Herald volunteers the information that "square meals," which have been written of so enthusiastically by the Columbia State, are new in Columbia; hence the fact that they have attracted so much attention. Perhaps square meals are a result of the introduction of diversified farming in South Carolina. A few years ago it would not have been possible to secure a home grown square meal in South Carolina of anything except cotton.

Champion of Rights of Masses.
Hon. E. J. Justice who is about as solid a champion of the rights of the masses as the State has today, made a speech on the fourth of July which while by no means sensational was of the kind to make thoughtful people sit up and take notice.—Webster's Weekly.

COMMISSION RULES AGAINST RAILROADS.

Through Rate Proportionate Application Practice is Condemned as Unlawful.

Washington, July 8.—A practice of many railway carriers of absorbing their portion of a through rate on property purchased for their own use, so the original shipper shall pay only that portion of the through rate which accrues to the initial carriers, today was condemned as unlawful by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The particular case was that of the Beekman Lumber Company, of Kansas City, against certain western and southwestern lines.

In another case brought by the Beekman Lumber Company, the commission condemned contracts between shippers and carriers which look to the imposition of an unpublished division of joint rates.

NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION MEETS

Forty-Ninth Annual Convention Opens In San Francisco Monday—Many Notable Educators In Attendance—Thousands of Delegates In Attendance.

Special to Telegram.

San Francisco, July 8.—Acting as a forerunner of the Forty-ninth Annual Convention of the National Education Association, which will formally be opened Monday, the annual meeting of the National Council of the organization was held here today. Reports of officers and committees were made and the arrangements for the convention were surveyed and approved. The evening session was devoted to an address by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, New York.

Judging from the completeness and wide scope of the preparations that have been made by educators throughout the country for the congress of the society, it will be one of the most notable and successful meetings in the history of the co-operative educational movement. Upwards of five thousand members of the association have already arrived in the city, many of them coming in today. It is expected that more than fifteen thousand will attend the first general session on Monday, which will be held in the great open-air Greek Theatre at Berkeley, one of the largest amphitheatres of its kind in the world.

During the five days of the convention, which comes to a close on Friday, every conceivable topic that could come within the general subject of education will be discussed by the foremost teachers and scholars of the nation. From the kindergarten child to the college post-graduate, the musician to the artisan, all kinds, degrees and phases of instruction will be considered.

The meeting will be formally opened on Monday with addresses of welcome by Governor Johnson of California, Mayor McCarthy of San Francisco, and President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California. William B. Pringle, chairman of the California committee in charge of arrangements, will introduce Mrs. Ella Plagg Young, president of the National Educational Association. Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown, United States Commissioner of Education, of Washington, will respond to the welcoming addresses.

"The Relation of Education to Temperance," by David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University, which follows, will be the first technical discourse of the convention. An address on "The Cause of Education," by Helen Marsh Wixson, state superintendent of public instruction of Colorado, will conclude the opening meeting.

Speakers at the other general sessions will be President James H. Baker of the University of Colorado; President Robert J. Alley of the University of Maine; Grace C. Strachan, superintendent of schools, New York City; Chancellor Samuel Avery of the University of Nebraska; Robert Lee Jones, State Superintendent of Public Instruction of Tennessee; Katherine Devereux Blake, principal of the public schools of New York City, and Francis G. Blair, State superintendent of public instruction of Illinois.

The "round table" and departmental meetings will begin on Monday afternoon and continue through the five days of the convention. Many noted educators will participate in these meetings, which form the real work of the convention and from which a great impetus to the onward advance of education is expected to be derived. Among the more important special departments are those on kindergarten education, elementary education, secondary education, higher education, normal schools, manual training and art, musical education, business education, child study, physical education, science instruction, school administration, libraries, special education, school patrons and rural and agricultural education.

The Ferry Building, where the registration headquarters of the Association have been opened, swarmed today with the delegates to the convention and, after each one had signed the books, a member of the flower committee stepped forward and pinned on the delegate a bouquet of California blossoms. This innovation, in charge of the society women of San Francisco, will be repeated every day of the convention, when the delegates will all get new bunches of the flowers.

The entertainment program mapped out for the visitors is a pretentious one, and includes a visit on Tuesday to the Presidio reservation and Fort Winfield Scott, where special band concerts and a dress parade and drill will be given in their honor. The reception to President Ella Plagg Young will be at the Pavilion Rink on Monday evening. Special excursions have been arranged for the leisure hours of the delegates to the University of California, Oakland, Mills College, Santa Rosa and Mount Tamalpais. This convention of the association is in the nature of the postponement of the one of 1906, which was scheduled for San Francisco, when the great earthquake made it impossible. In the Denver meeting two years ago, San Francisco applied for the 1910 convention, but Boston was selected instead. At last year's Boston meeting the coast city was unanimously chosen for this year's convention, and the local and State committee have been preparing for it ever since.

Several societies have arranged to hold their annual meetings in this city simultaneously with the sessions of the National Educational Society, so that the members can have the advantage of attending the meetings. Among these are the School Garden Association of America, the American School Peace League, the Federation of Teachers' and the Federation of School Women's Clubs.

San Francisco has set aside tomorrow as Educational Sunday. The day will be observed by all the large churches of the city, where there will be special services and sermons on educational topics.

NIX'S ASSAILANTS HELD FOR COURT

Before Justice of the Peace D. H. Collins yesterday the case of State against Robert Bennett and Murphy Shambley for assaulting Jesse Nix on June 26th, was tried. It will be remembered that the victim's throat was dangerously cut by the two men when the parties, who are all white, were returning to their homes in Durham, after an excursion trip to Danville, where all three had been drinking heavily and were in the mean state of drunkenness. Nix was just discharged from the hospital and appeared in court against his assailants with his wound bandaged well. He is recovering nicely and will soon be entirely well beyond the ugly scar that he will carry through life.

It was shown by the testimony of Nix and another witness of the occurrence that the deed was committed without any provocation. Sapp and Stern, appearing as attorneys for the defendants, placed no witnesses on the stand. Justice Collins was convinced of the guilt of the two men and bound them over to the September term of Superior Court under bonds of $500 each in default of which they are in the county jail awaiting trial.

EIGHTH COCAINE SELLER SENTENCED

The eighth cocaine peddler to receive a prison sentence in Municipal Court, was convicted and given a term of six months yesterday morning. Jim Roan is the sixth husky negro that goes to serve the city on the street force for that term and two negroes are in the county workhouse for the same offense. Roan employed counsel to defend him but he was proved guilty and sentenced nevertheless.

John Rowe and Charlie Jones, alias Jim Rowe, were found guilty of larceny and were given respectively four and ten months of service on the streets.

George Jackquin, a negro, was given a sentence of twenty days with the street improvement squad for beating a ride on the train.

INCREASE IN BUILDING.

Cities of Country Show Marked Advance in Structural Operations.

Chicago, July 8.—There is a marked increase in building operations throughout the country, the totals of the principal cities for June showing an increase of 11 per cent.

Permits were taken out in June in fifty-five cities for the construction of 17,419 buildings, involving an expenditure of $60,825,919, according to official reports received by the Construction News, compared with 16,811 buildings, involving a total investment of $54,865,506 for the corresponding month last year, an increase of .008 buildings and $5,960,413. There were increases in thirty-four and decreases in twenty-one cities.

Philadelphia leads, with 1,735 new buildings for the month; Chicago is second, with 1,081, and Cincinnati is third, with a total of 1,055.

PERSISTENT ADVERTISING BRINGS BUSINESS SUCCESS.

If the money that is spent every year by "occasional" advertisers were added up it would be found to amount to a large sum. By "occasional" advertising I mean the using of space at irregular periods in your newspaper. Local publicity is often done this way under the excuse of helping the paper, but the real reason, if the advertiser could be got to admit it, is that he is half-hearted about the matter. He partly looks upon advertising as a luxury anyhow, and so curtails his expenditure on it to the lowest limit.

Although the retailer may regard publicity as a luxury, it yet seems to be a dream on his part that one day he will make some real success and a handsome fortune through advertising. Indeed, down deep in all retailers' hearts is a feeling that money can positively be made through advertising. They know that huge fortunes have been and are being piled up by retail merchants with the aid of this limitless force, and they have secret hopes that one day they also may strike the royal road to success. If they but knew it that road lies straight and plain before every retailer in the country if he would open his eyes to see it.

John Wannamaker, the great New York and Philadelphia retail merchant, on one occasion said: "Advertising doesn't jerk; it pulls." It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge that load, with one-half the force in steady effort will start and keep it moving."

Here is the solution in a nutshell—steady effort. The merchant who uses space "occasionally" is simply wasting his efforts. It is the steady pounding—and pounding again—that makes success in advertising as in everything else. All advertising is good in proportionate degree to how it is done, and even occasional advertising has some value, but to be successful to the point of permanently increasing your bank account, it must be done persistently and systematically.

What would you say about a clerk in your store who waited on your customers for a day or two and then sat down to rest for a few more days, leaving the customers to attend to themselves. You know how long your business would last under such conditions. It is the same with newspaper advertising. Publicity in your newspaper is simply salesmanship on paper, and the same rules apply to it as apply to salesmanship in your store. Continuous effort and eternal polishing up of ideas and methods are necessary to make success either as a personal salesman in your store or as a salesman in your newspaper.

You advertise to sell your goods and keep your name in front of the people. It is only reasonable to suppose that you will be better able to do this with persistent effort than with spasmodic attempts. If you were to tell a man or woman daily about the quality and prices of your wares you would produce more effect than if you were to talk to him or her at uncertain intervals.

The question of changing the salesmanship or "copy" in your advertising space is an important one. It acts in this way. Suppose you had a pile of some special goods for sale. Suppose you were determined to sell some of those goods to some particular customer. After you had asked that customer to buy those goods would you, the next time you approached her, use exactly the same language and arguments? You know you would not. You would hunt up new ideas to attract her attention, new ways of convincing her and new methods to get her to buy. You must be continually hunting up ideas, new arguments and new ways of attracting and holding attention. Salesmanship in newspaper space is just the same as salesmanship behind your counter.

The trouble the ordinary storekeeper is up against in securing this salesmanship on paper I have outlined. He can purchase advertising space readily enough and so long as he buys enough space for a long enough period to make a successful display he has done all that the successful merchant can do in that respect. But when it comes to filling the space the question assumes a different shape.

Advertisement constructing is a profession like medicine or law. When you are sick you go to a physician. When your business wants tuning up, why should you not go to a business doctor?—an advertising expert? There are on the market a number of what are called Syndicate Advertising Services. These can be obtained for as low as one dollar per week. They give you precisely the same service as is given to department stores and national advertisers by first-class individual advertising managers. These services are usually supplied in a series of fifty-two advertisements, one for each week in the year, together with fifty-two copperplate cuts of high grade illustrations drawn by high salaried artists. The advertisements are constructed by writers of national reputation and with great experience, men who have made success for thousands of other retailers in the same position as yourself. The low price charged for these advertisements is only made possible because of thousands of the same advertisement that are sold to different merchants throughout the country. One only in each town is allowed to use the service for his own trade.

Particulars of the best of these syndicated advertising services may be had from the Business Manager of The Greensboro Telegram, and I earnestly advise you, as an up-to-date merchant, to get them at once. "The early bird catches the worm" is a true saying and it is nowhere better explained than in this case; the retailer who uses a service of this kind here now will start himself on a near cut to independence and fortune.

DOCK RIOTS IN AMSTERDAM.

Police and Troops Rout Shipping Strikers After Wounding Many.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, July 8.—There was hot fighting in the harbor district here between rioters on the one hand and the police and troops on the other in the early hours of today. The strikers stoned the police and the troops replied with their rifles.

The striking shipping men then produced revolvers, and in the fusillade that followed a number of persons were wounded. During the fighting the street lights were extinguished. The troops ultimately routed the strikers and later patrolled the streets in strong detachments.

WILL BANK DOWAGER'S GOLD.

Late Chinese Empress' Millions on Way to Brussels.

Seattle, July 8.—According to Chinese papers received today, it is creditably reported in Peking that the fortune accumulated by the late Empress Dowager Tze Hei, which amounts to between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, chiefly in gold bars, has been shipped to England, whence it will be transferred to a bank in Brussels for investment.

Since the death of the Empress Dowager the treasure has been stored in the palace under military guard.

He is a wise son who doesn't neglect the education of his parents.

DESERTING THE FARM.

People Keen for Turnout and Delights of City and Town.

Washington, July 8.—The people of the United States are steadily deserting the country and the farm for the turmoil and delights of the city and town, according to statistics made public today by the Census Bureau. During the past ten years the percentage of people living in cities or other incorporated places of more than 2,500 inhabitants increased from 40.5 to 48.3 of the total. Twenty years ago only 36.1 per cent of the total population lived in such incorporated places.

In classifying the 1910 census returns the bureau calls that portion of the population in incorporated cities or towns of 2,500 or more inhabitants urban and the remainder rural. On this basis, in 1910, 42,623,383, or 46.3 per cent of the total, lived in urban territory, and 49,348,883, or 53.7 per cent in rural territory.

Kidney Diseases Are Curable under certain conditions. The right medicine must be taken before the disease has progressed too far. Mr. Perry A. Pitman, Dale, Tex., says: "I was down in bed for four months with kidney and bladder trouble and gall stones. One bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured me well and sound." Ask for it. NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Fore-runner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

You are the Loser if You Drink

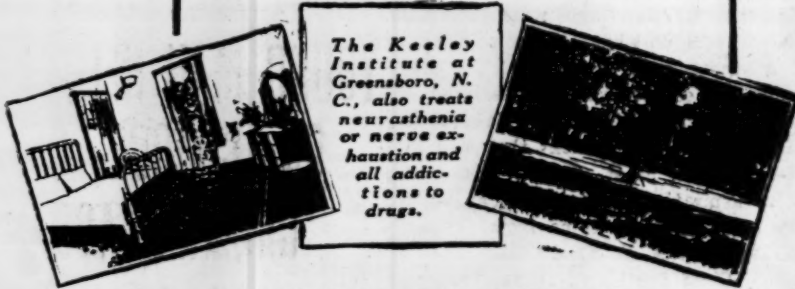

CONSIDER the matter anyway you care to. You lose the confidence of business associates—you lose your friends, and finally you lose all respect for yourself. You are a derelict—you simply drift.

You're on the wrong road my friend! The Keeley Institute at Greensboro, N. C., will set you right. It will take away your desire for drink—it will kill your appetite for liquor. It will make a new man of you.

The treatment as administered by the Keeley Institute of Greensboro, N. C., is more than a cure for alcoholism. There is a personality behind the institution that will make you a new man morally, healthful environments that will build you up physically, and put you back into the same good condition you enjoyed before you started drinking. Four weeks of treatment here at Greensboro will give you new ideals and inspirations—the strength, the energy—the will to maintain your proper place in the world.

We have helped thousands of men in a worse plight than you are. We have brought joy into thousands of homes. We can help you. Write us today. Don't let anything deter you. Now is the time and your communication will be treated in strictest confidence.

The Suffering Servant of Jehovah.
Isa. 53:1-12.
Golden Text—The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. Isa. 53:6.

(1) Verse 13—Who was the "servant" of whom Isaiah speaks?

(2) What is it to be a servant of God, and how does Jesus fulfill such a position?

(3) In how many respects is Jesus "exalted, extolled," and "very high"?

(4) Verses 14-15—Notwithstanding the Old Testament prophecies concerning the suffering Messiah was there a single person who was not "astonished" at his crucifixion?

(5) Why were all the people of God including his apostles "astonished," and disappointed, at the crucifixion of Jesus?

(6) What has Jesus "sprinkled" the nations with?

(7) What proportion of the kings or the presidents of the nations look to, and honor Jesus as the Saviour of the world?

(8) Verses 11:1—How many to-day believe this "report" of the suffering son of God?

(9) Why have so many refused to believe this "report"?

(10) What relation do those whom God has delivered from their sins and their sorrowful fears, bear to this "report"?

(11) Verses 2-3—What would have been the result to God's cause, if the world's redeemer had belonged to a kingly home instead of a carpenter's?

(12) What would have been the difference in the results if Jesus had been a great general, a legislator, or merchant prince?

(13) What class of men have despised and rejected Jesus?

(14) Did God want Jesus to be "a man of sorrows"?

(15) Verses 4-9—How has Jesus borne our griefs and sorrows?

(16) Did God plan to have the Jews reject Jesus and to crucify him? Give your reasons.

(17) Could Jesus have borne our griefs and saved our souls if the Jews had accepted him?

(18) When the prophet says "We did esteem him stricken, smitten of God and afflicted," were the Jews or others right or wrong in so thinking?

(19) Was God at any time angry with Jesus, or did he ever punish him?

(20) In what way did Jesus bear all the cruel insults and the physical suffering inflicted on him by the Jews, for our sakes?

(21) Suppose the Jews had yielded their hearts to the loving invitation of Jesus, and had espoused His cause as His Apostles did, what would have been the probable result upon the salvation of the world? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(22) Why did the Jews bring about the crucifixion of Jesus?

(23) Verses 10-12—What are some of the personal blessings which come to us through the death of Jesus?

(24) What are some of the national blessings which we enjoy through the death of Jesus?

Manna's Wickedness and Penitence. 2 Chron. xxxiii:1-20.

Both Had Grievances.

First Professional Humorist—Why so sad, old man?

Second Professional Humorist—I am the only one who takes myself seriously.

GRIPS AS MUSCLE BUILDERS

Traveling Salesman Seems to Have Idea Which Might Really Be Called a Good One.

After dinner they were discussing athletics, and each had his favorite method of reducing or building up. The traveling salesman proudly called attention to a remarkable development of biceps which swelled up beneath his coat sleeve.

"Very good, indeed," said the professor, testing with his fingers. "How do you accomplish it?"

"My method is extremely simple and takes no time away from my work. In fact, it is a result. These muscles have been developed by carrying heavily loaded 'grips,' as we usually call our big handbags on the road. I always carry two, loaded as nearly alike as possible, so I shall not grow one-sided. I began with only one grip, and swung it from one hand to the other, as fatigue impelled, but I found that it is actually easier to carry two than one. I am perfectly balanced with two, and I assure you I need no extra gym work for strengthening my arms, shoulders or back. I almost could carry a piano in each hand if the instruments were not so cumbersome."

Actor's Proper Place.

Mahlon Evans, Jr., of Merchantville has a reputation as an actor and takes part in nearly all of the local shows. In the last show that was given, Shorty had one of the leading parts. After the show, while he was taking off his makeup, an elderly man made his appearance in the doorway. "Are you Mr. Evans?" inquired the old man. "Yes," replied Shorty, as he motioned him to be seated. "Well," the old man continued, "I just want to tell you something. I've been watching your acting tonight. You should not be playing in this town; you should be with Mansfield, Booth or Irving, or Joe Jefferson." "Why, why," said Shorty, "those actors are dead." "I know it," said the old man, as he turned on his heel and left—Philadelphia Times.

Wanted the Day to Himself.

Nothing makes us quite so weary as these elaborate, gotten-up-ahead-of-time jokes that some people sing and spring with such a dramatic effect. Our Washington correspondent told us of one of these, the other day. A man went into the patent office, last week, and said he wanted a copyright. They steered him to the right department, and he opened up like this: "This is Saturday, is it not? Thank you. I understand that you will not issue a copyright on Sunday." "No, sir. That is the rule." "But you will issue a copyright on any other day of the week?" "Yes, sir." "I'm so glad. I want to get Friday copyrighted. It's my birthday, and I don't want any other fellows using it. How much will it cost?"

Rapid Increase of Life.

As illustrating the enormous powers of reproductive increase in the vegetable world, the case of a common weed, the Siumbrum Sophia, may be cited. This weed produces three-quarters of a million seeds, and these, if they all grew and multiplied, would in three years cover the whole land surface of the globe. Darwin calculated that the slowest breeding of all animals, the elephant, would in 750 years, from a single pair, produce 19,000,000 individuals. Rabbits would from a single pair, produce 1,000,000 individuals in four or five years.

REVENGE ON WEATHER MAN

People Anxiously Looking for Right Conditions Chuckle When He Catches a Bad Cold.

A grin transfigured the face of the shipping clerk who had telephoned to the weather bureau for particulars on the day's atmospheric outlook. The grin conveyed a pleasing message to the manager.

"No storm in sight, eh?" he said.

"No," said the clerk; "but that wasn't what I was laughing at. That fellow down there has got a cold. He's so hoarse he can scarcely speak."

"A cold, has he?" said the manager, and then he smiled.

In the course of the day hundreds of people about town chuckled gleefully because the weather clerk had lost his voice. The clerk was aware of the hilarity his affliction caused.

"For the first time since I have been connected with the bureau," he said, "I have been able to make the people happy. As soon as an inquirer perceived that my head was all stopped up he began to feel better. If I had predicted a tornado within six hours he would have laughed. Nothing that I can think of makes such a strong appeal to the new general public's sense of humor as a case of influenza in the weather office. The chief and three of his clerks had colds not long ago, and everybody who heard about it thought it the best joke of the season. Apparently they consider us responsible for their own sniffing, and they rejoice in a belated revenge."

About the time a girl gets out of short dresses she begins to plan her trousseau.

"Why do you call your boy fannel?"

"Because he always seems to shrink from washing."

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA Department of State. Certificate of Filing of Consent by Stockholders to Dissolution.

To all to whom these Presents may come—Greeting: WHEREAS, It appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof deposited in my office, that the GREENSBORO BOILER & MACHINE COMPANY, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated at No. — Street, in the City of Greensboro, County of Guilford, State of North Carolina (J. W. McLennan being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 20 of the Revisal of 1905 entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate that such consent has been filed.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, J. BRYAN GRIMES, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 16th day of June, 1911, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by more than two-thirds in interest of the stockholders thereof, which said certificate and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal, at Raleigh, this 16th day of June A. D., one thousand nine hundred and eleven. (Seal) J. BRYAN GRIMES, Secretary of State.

in the national Congress of the direct elections amendment.

The senatorial situation has resolved itself practically into Hoke Smith and anti-Smith camps, with the latest developments being infused by the latter element. Governor Smith's friends point to the fact that the direct elections amendment is being jeopardized through the Bristow amendment, which proposes to vest in Congress the right to control the manner, place and time of electing United States Senators. It is pointed out also that the Bristow amendment had the support of Senator Terrell, one of Governor Smith's opponents, but there is little or no criticism of Mr. Terrell's action in this respect. Southern Democrats, it is declared, will not accept the Bristow amendment and until the Republicans recede from this effort to bridge the States, there is no chance for the popular election of Senators, regardless of what Georgia or any other State may do.

State Senator Shaw's resolution providing that all senatorial candidates pledge themselves to resign in the spring if elected, and place their candidacy in the hands of the voters at a primary to be held then, was tabled by a vote of 35 to 6 in the Senate today. This action is taken to mean that the Legislature will proceed to the election of a Senator on July 11 in the good old-fashioned manner.

Thomas E. Watson, erstwhile Populist leader and once Populist candidate for the presidency, tonight announced his candidacy for the United States senatorship, making six candidates in all.

RALEIGH ALDERMEN'S FIGHT WILL BE AIRED IN COURT

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, July 8.—The fight between Alderman Sherwood Upchurch and Alderman Alexander Webb that took place last night just after the July meeting of the aldermen, is to have an airing in the police court Monday and many have much curiosity as to just what course Acting Police Justice W. C. Harris will pursue in disposing of the case, he being a kinsman of Alderman Upchurch and under peculiar obligation to the majority of the board represented by Mr. Webb. Upchurch called Webb a liar in board meeting when Webb, in reply to a question by Upchurch, stated that he would have as readily favored remitting the tax penalty against any friends of the Upchurch minority as he had in ordering that the penalty against ex-Judge R. W. Winston be remitted. This had been done because the city tax collector had promised to draw on Judge Winston before the penalty was in force and then forget it. Later the aldermen remitted the penalty. After the meeting Webb demanded an apology of Upchurch for his language. Upchurch struck at him. The two clinched and were quickly on the pavement with Upchurch underneath and Webb pounding him vigorously. Officers interfered and both men were bruised and bleeding when pulled apart.

VALUABLE ADDITIONS TO THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Two recent additions to the religious literature of the public library are of especial interest. One is a little volume with the title "The Lord's Supper," recently written by Rev. B. E. Beall. It is valuable for its own sake and doubly valuable as a gift from the author whose continued interest in the welfare of the library is greatly appreciated.

The other work is "The Trial of Jesus from a Lawyer's Standpoint" by W. M. Chandler. This is a book which Col. J. T. Morehead heartily recommends.

POLITICAL GOSSIP REGARDING THE SENATORIAL RACE

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, July 8.—The most notable development this week in the campaign involving the seat in the United States Senate now held by Senator F. M. Simmons that is being waged with Senator Simmons, Governor W. W. Kitchin, ex-Governor C. B. Aycock and Chief Justice Walter Clark actively in the race that must keep a pace until the fall elections of 1912 when the expectation is that there will be a senatorial primary by the Democrats, was the coming of Senator Simmons into the state to address the State Association of Rural Mail Carriers in annual session at Winston-Salem. The senator is said to have made a fine impression on the carriers who endorsed with a whoop his bill pending in the Senate to provide federal aid in road building. His friends say that scores of the carriers return to their routes determined to use their influence as far as they can in the interest of the senator, who left his pressing duties at Washington to attend their convention. It is generally conceded that Senator Simmons' record in the Congress for the remainder of this session as well as the next regular session, particularly as to the Lorimer investigation and his attitude to the Canadian reciprocity bill which he is striving to have saddled with free farmers' supplies.

The people of the State are watching with keen interest to see what Governor Kitchin will do about the appointment of a successor to the late Henry Clay Brown as corporation commissioner. It is regarded as entirely possible that he will make an appointment that will incidentally, at least, further his senatorial aspirations. Some hint at possibilities that might come from the appointment of A. W. Graham, brother-in-law of Chief Justice Clark, Graham being an active candidate for the appointment. The possibility of pledges by Graham as to senatorial support for Kitchin in the light of Clark's candidacy for the Senate is the special issue. Then there are other appointments that the governor can make that would considerably change the line-up in the senatorial contest.

Chief Justice Clark is, during the recess of the Supreme Court, marshaling his forces in every section of the State with a view to stirring interest among the rank and file of the people in his platform which includes the popular election of senators, United States judges, postmasters and other federal officers as well as the initiative and referendum and recall and a general public policy that would hold the reins of government closest to the people.

Ex-Governor Aycock has for several weeks been tied down to professional work as counsel for the defendant in the damage suit of Ware-Kramer Tobacco Co. vs. American Tobacco Co., which is heading for a conclusion next week. The friends of the ex-Governor are planning for him a means of getting out into various sections of the State on speech-making expeditions at as frequent intervals as possible thereafter on the ground that he owes it to his own interest to do this as something of a check on the speech-making campaigns of Governor Kitchin brought about the invitation to the governor to deliver addresses on many subjects and on many different sorts of occasions, all of them affording more or less opportunity, it is said, for him to put in work for his senatorial aspirations.

Cowboy and Indian Celebration at Ottotway Theatre.

The Ottotway Theatre has arranged to show the pictures made at the Cowboy and Indian celebration held in Cheyenne, Wyoming, last year, in which ex-President Roosevelt took such a prominent part. Manager McCall will present these pictures Friday and Saturday, July 14th and 15th. This will be the only opportunity to see them in Greensboro, and they will no doubt be as interesting as any reels shown here this season. 7-9-1t

Special to Telegram.

Salisbury, July 8.—Charged with serious assault upon Mrs. R. E. Davis, a well-known Rowan woman, Etta Bettus, colored, was lodged in the Salisbury jail today. Yesterday the colored woman went to the home of Mrs. Davis to pick berries and when asked to leave the premises assaulted Mrs. Davis with a club, inflicting serious injuries.

"SUNNY JIM" GETS ELECTRIC FAN ON DESK

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—The Senate was introduced to a brand new innovation today. Vice President Sherman's desk was fitted with an electric fan. Never before in the history of the Senate has an electric fan been used. The fan was adjusted to a slow movement, which eliminated the usual whir and buzzing. The Vice President seemed greatly pleased with the improvement and it caused a more sunny expression, for which he is famous.

YOUNG MAN HELD ON CHARGE OF CRIMINAL ASSAULT

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, N. C., July 8.—Acting Police Justice W. C. Harris announced in court this morning that he would hold the young white man, Turner Smith, charged with criminal assault upon Miss Lillian Whitson, under $1,000 bond for the Superior court. Smith could not give the bond and went to the county jail.

Appearing for the prisoner were Col. J. C. L. Harris and Chas. U. Harris, father and brother of Police Justice Harris. They made a hard fight for their client to be held only for simple assault and then the bond to be reduced, but the justice waived them down, declaring that it was no use to discuss the case and that his mind was made up to hold him for the criminal assault charge.

The young girl was a boarder in the home of Smith's mother and the young man induced her to go driving. At a secluded place on the country road in the early evening he made improper advances, going to such an extent that the girl jumped from the buggy and fled, reporting the case later to the police.

Their coach, of High Point, also went with the party.

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ARE RESPONDING NOBLY.

W. H. Swift, field manager of the work of reorganizing the alumni of the University of North Carolina into a more compact and influential institution, returned last night from Raleigh where he held the meeting of the second local organization yet visited, all of which, formed in the counties and larger cities, are to be re-moulded into a grand general association. The Greensboro Association on last Tuesday night pledged $200 for the advancement of the work. The Wake County Association assembled in good attendance Thursday night and after listening to an inspiring talk by Mr. Swift and hearing of the pace that had been set by the local organization promptly pledged $300 for the no-nation of their organization to the good cause.

The next meeting will be at Winston-Salem, the Forsyth County Association assembling in that city tomorrow night to take action on the plan. The movement is to be carried rapidly throughout the State, and in Charlotte and Durham, the Mecklenburg and Durham County Associations will be assembled during the coming week to take their share of interest and contributions in the great work.

Greensboro Not In Rain Belt

The sections northeast and northwest of Greensboro were visited by a good rain yesterday afternoon, but not enough rain fell in Greensboro to lay the dust. Directly north of the city two heavy showers fell, the rainfall thoroughly soaking the land. The rain was badly needed and the crops at once took a new lease on life. In the immediate vicinity of Greensboro there has been no rainfall of consequence in a couple of months and vegetation is suffering badly as a result.

While the corn crop has suffered from the dry atmosphere and hot scorching sun, with seasonable showers at this time it is believed that a good crop will be raised as corn most needs water during the period the ears are forming and filling out. The wheat crop this year has been exceptionally fine in this section, but the tobacco crop will not average more than one half on account of lack of seasons and the scarcity of plants. However, the weed planted is doing well, though late, and with good seasons from now on the tobacco planted will, it is thought, be of much better quality than is usually produced in this section.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS MAKE CREDITABLE SHOWING

Country Not Bad as It Has Been Painted, According to Criminal Records—Interesting Figures Made Public by Census Bureau.

(By SIDNEY ESPEY.)
Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—Refutation of the cry of political and social reformers that the number of criminals is increasing each year in the United States, is made in the report of Dr. J. A. Hill, chief statistician for revision and results in the Census Bureau. The figures in the report, which has just been made public, seem to justify the claims of the reformers, but the explanation of them by Dr. Hill proves the fallacy of their contention.

The preliminary count of the prison population includes the inmates of the United States penitentiaries, State prisons, county jails, almshouses, and institutions for the insane and feeble-minded. According to this preliminary count, the prison population of January 1, 1910, was 109,311. Of this number 2,625 were United States prisoners confined in the penitentiaries at Atlanta, Georgia, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and McNeil Island, Washington. When one stops to think of the ninety millions of people that live in the United States and that only one hundred thousand are in prison, it is evidence of the firm grip that the respect for law has upon the American people.

The number of commitments to prison during 1910 were 462,530, and the number of prisoners discharged during the year on account of expiration of sentence, pardons, or death was 456,996. The number of violations of the law in which the offender has been sentenced to prison is exceedingly small, considering the population. Only one person in every 180,000 committed some breach of the felony laws.

The last previous census of prisoners was taken June 30, 1904, and at that time the prison population was $1,772, and the admission and commitments during that year 149,691. One taking a hasty glance at the two reports will immediately say that the reformers are justified in their statements, for the figures of this year's report are much larger than in the report of 1904. The two reports, however, cannot be compared because the 1910 enumeration included cases of imprisonment for the non-payment of fines imposed by the courts, while the census in 1904 did not include such cases. Accordingly the marked increase in the prison population and more especially in the number of commitments does not show an increase in crime, but is largely accounted for by the difference in the scope of the two censuses. Taking this into consideration, there is very little difference in the number of prisoners and an increase would be trivial.

Later the Census Bureau will be able to separate from the 1910 figures the cases of imprisonment for non-payment of fines and thereby obtain a figure which will be fairly comparable with the enumeration of six years ago. The larger number of admissions reported, as compared with the population on January 1, is indicative of the fact that a larger proportion of the commitments are for short terms and minor offenses. In the final census report, the prisoners will be classified with reference to the offense for which they were sentenced, and the term of the sentence.

A slight decrease in the number of juvenile delinquents is shown in the 1910 report over the report of 1904. In 1910 in the reform schools and institutions of that class, there were 22,903 inmates. In the same institutions in 1904 there were 23,034.

Of the convicts 93.5 per cent are males and 5.601, or 6.5 per cent are females. In the penal institutions 70,069 of the convicts are males, and 4,701 are females. While 81,772 were in the institutions in 1904 only 51,172 of them were engaged at productive labor. Of the remainder 21,403 were engaged in prison duties, such as cooking, washing, cleaning and other domestic services. On an average 2,774 were sick or invalid, and 10,686 were idle because no work was provided for them, or because they were purposely kept in confinement without labor. The total value of the goods produced by convict labor was $34,276,205. This sum represents the market value, that is, the amount for which the goods were sold, or when used in the institutions in which they were produced the estimated amount for which the goods might have been sold.

The number of paupers in almshouses on January 1, 1910, was 83,944. The number admitted during the year was 106,457 and the number discharged or dying 100,858. In 1904 the pauper population was $1,764 at the beginning of the year. The admissions during the year were 81,412 and the discharges or deaths

77,886. One of the most striking features of the report is the large increase in the number of cases of insanity among the prisoners. In the last few years insanity has been the plea for almost every crime that has been committed. Many feign insanity and are committed to an insane asylum. Since the famous trial of Harry Thaw, who shot and killed Stanford White in Madison Square Garden, temporary insanity has become the loophole by which many have sought to avoid the penalties of the law. Some are adjudged insane and are sent to an asylum for the criminal insane, and are afterward declared sane and allowed to go free. In 1904 the number of inmates in insane asylums was 150,151. In 1910 this number had increased 184,123, an increase of 22.6 per cent for the six years. The number of commitments to insane asylums during 1904 was 49,622. In 1910 there were 59,625 commitments. This represents an increase of 20.2 per cent.

There is much needed revision of the criminal laws regarding insanity. In nearly every important case either the prisoner during his infancy or early life has shown signs of insanity or some one in the family three or four generations back had been confined in an asylum.

In institutions for the feeble-minded, there were in 1904, 14,447 inmates. This number has grown to 20,199 in 1910. The number of commitments increased from 2,599 in 1904 to 2,848 in 1910.

It can be readily seen from the report that, during the six years since the last criminal census, there has been very little change in the number of criminals except in the case of the insane. The loud cries of reform heard on every side are not justified. It is exceedingly doubtful if the laws of any other nation in the world are so generally obeyed as in the United States. The prophecy made by reformers that the country was fast losing its fair name and was sinking into a race of degenerates is on its face shown to be absurd by this preliminary census of the criminal population of the United States.

Some Historical Stamps.
Many intensely interesting historical events have been recorded in postage stamps so that a large collection of stamps often shows in a most striking manner how history was made. There is a period of French history which is particularly interesting in this way because the stamps issued at that time so plainly show the changes in the ruling power from monarchy to republic and back again.

On one French stamp you see Mons. Barre's head of Liberty and the words "Republique France." On the following issue of stamps—those issued in 1849—Louis Napoleon's head appears instead of the Liberty, the words on the stamp being still "Republique France." After that there was a new stamp, on which Louis Napoleon's head still appeared, but the words "Republique France" were replaced by "Empire France."

GOOD RECRUITS ARE NUMEROUS

Many Young Baseball Stars Discovered This Season.

CHICAGO APPEARS TO HAVE BEST

Ping Bodie and Ray Corhan Are Two Hummers—Cleveland Has Seen Very Fortunate, and So Have the New York Americans.

Every spring new baseball phenomena bob up in the major leagues, but usually not more than a quarter of them last over two months, but this season seems to be an exception, for there are nearly 100 newcomers in the Americans and National circuits now that appear to have earned themselves permanent berths.

Probably the team that was most benefited by recruits was the Chicago White Sox. Comiskey opened the money bag and sent his scouts out with orders to get stars, no matter what might be the cost. A result of this policy was the signing of Ping Bodie, Ray Corhan and Jimmy Callahan were induced to affix their names to Chicago contracts.

The Chicago Cubs have also picked up a great ball player in Jimmy Esmond, who last season hung his hat in the American association. He is not the finished man that his predecessor was, but he shows promise of developing into another Jimmy Collins.

The Boston Nationals, although far from a real big league team, have two crack-jack youngsters in Miller (outfielder) and Ingerton (third baseman). Miller shows promise of leading the league in batting this season, while Ingerton is another powerful and heavy hitter.

Frank Chance passed Ingerton up for Doyle, and just now it looks a tossup between the pair.

Charley Dootin and his Phillies have been playing a brand of ball that is far ahead of anything that was expected of them before the season opened, and one of the men who deserve a big boost for the Quakers' landing in the pennant race is young Mr. Alexander, a pitcher secured from the New York State league.

Clark Griffith, who has been criticized for deals he has made, seems to have secured a live wire in Jimmy Esmond, who last season played with the Jersey City team of the Eastern league. Esmond played phenomenal ball around the keystone for the Skeeters and also walked the ball good and hard.

The New York Yankees have added two dandies to their twirling staff in Ray Caldwell, from the Ohio and Pennsylvania leagues, and Ray Fisher, from the Connecticut circuit.

Cleveland picked up a star infielder in Olson and a crack-jack pitcher in Yeaz Gregg. John L. Taylor grabbed a good looking youngster for the Boston Americans in Yerkes, who last year worked in the New England league.

TARIFF REDUCTION WILL BE CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Democrats Will Make National Fight On This Line—Will Have Good Fighting Ground With Popular Issue—The Plans Being Made In Congress.

(By JONATHAN WINFIELD.)
Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—Issues for the 1912 presidential campaign are already clearly drawn. Some new ones may arise between this time and the date for framing the platforms of the two parties but the one paramount issue, tariff reform, is now fixed and the battle will be fought out on that question.

The whole attitude of the Democratic House has been one of forcing tariff to the front. The Senate too, that is that part of the Senate favorable to revision of the Payne-Aldrich bill, has joined with the House in calling the attention of the country to the necessity of lower tariff duties if the cost of living is to be lowered.

And so it happens that the tariff is to be the one great issue for next year's fight. This has been the one issue upon which the Democrats were able to elect a President since the Civil War. Cleveland ran both times on a low tariff platform and twice entered the White House as the result.

Democrats are now looking to history to repeat itself. They have a confident feeling that next year the country will follow up its congressional vote of last November by electing a Democratic Senate and a Democratic President. If the tariff can be made to serve their purpose in carrying this election, they will make the most of it.

This explains in a measure why the Democrats in Congress are willing for reciprocity to pass. Reciprocity is tariff revision of the most pronounced type. True it came from a Republican President, but that makes it all the more necessary that the Democrats support it. They could not consistently do otherwise. They have preached lower tariff duties for years, and if they were to turn down the only real opportunity they have had since the enactment of the Wilson-Gorman law to vote for lower tariffs, they would undoubtedly appear to the country as political hypocrites of the worst type.

Therefore they are for reciprocity. They are willing for the President to have his share of the credit for this movement. If there is any credit, knowing all the while that he must divide that credit with the Democrats who are to put the measure through, if it goes through.

Then too, the action of the House in putting out the farmers' free list bill, admitting to this country articles used by the farmers at a lower rate than at present, has its political significance. This measure is intended to appeal to the farmer vote. The farmers have had protection on their products and want protection still, but they would like to get the things they have to buy at just as low cost as possible. That is why the free list measure is expected to win over a large element of the farmer vote in the election a year from next November.

The free list bill may never be enacted into law, and probably will not at this session with a Republican President and a Republican Senate standing in its way, but whether or not, the Democrats will insist that they have done their part, and they will lay the blame for any failure to enact the bill upon the Republicans.

But the Democrats have gone still further in the program for bringing up the tariff before the country. They have introduced the wool bill, revising the duties under Schedule K of the Payne law. This is another measure which the Republicans as a whole have shown no inclination to support. They enacted the Payne law not much more than eighteen months ago, and they hesitate now to repudiate the work done then.

This is true in spite of the fact that President Taft has declared that this schedule is indefensible. It is defended by Republican members of House and Senate, and will have to be defended further, when the Senate attacks begin, but the influence of President Taft may be strong enough to put it through the Senate and allow it to become a law.

If this action should be taken, there is no doubt that the wind will be taken out of at least one of the Democratic sails. It is the present anticipation of the Democrats to hold this measure up to the country as one of the really inequities acts of the Republican party. If the Republicans therefore should join with the Democrats and revise this schedule there will be little left upon which to base a campaign argument.

The House committee on ways and means is at work on a revision of the cotton schedule. This is to be another campaign bill. It will hardly pass the Senate, but if it fails, by reason of Republican opposition, it will make better campaign material than if it went through. This is the basis for the big campaign issues next year. These bills will furnish the Democrats with the material with which they may appeal to the voters for their suffrage.

Next to the tariff, administrative and legislative economy will be an issue of importance. The various committee investigations now in progress are designed primarily to make campaign matter. Every one of the executive departments is on the grill. Committees are probing deep into the records of expenditures, and are preparing reports which will show that billion dollar Congresses are simply the result of Republican extravagance.

The Republicans will meet these two issues with strong argument. They will show that it was their President who inaugurated reciprocity, and their President who demands the revision of Schedule K. As for the other questions of tariff revision, they will fall back upon the argument that the Tariff Board should report on them before they are put through a revision process.

On the economy issue, they will rely upon the President's plans for the Economy and Efficiency Commission to support their good intentions with regard to cutting down expenditures. These facts show that both sides have some strong talking points, and indicate even now that next year's campaign books will not be altogether stupid reading for the thoughtful reader.

DISSERTATION ON THE SHIRT

Writer Uncorks Vials of Wrath in a Few Indictments of Uncomfortable Modern Garment.

The onward march of civilization has its obstacles.

Shirts being made for man and not man for shirts, every time a man gets a new shirt or one comes back from the laundry the moral uplift needs the application of the safety brake and the emergency clutch to keep us from dropping into the cellar again.

Shirts are made of various kinds of materials. After the sewing is finished they are left for a few hours in a strong mixture of glue and concrete. This fastens the back to the bosom and sticks the sleeves together. Buttonholes are then made in the n cband, and the band is then steeped in cement so that the buttonholes cannot be opened. The bosom is then adorned with buttons. These buttons are sewed on with one weak thread, so that when you try to button the shirt, after having pried it apart with a paper knife and strong language, the buttons will fly away merrily.

Shirts that are laundered are always sent back with the lower button buttoned in, and all the buttonholes glued tight.

Dress shirts are made with ve-seered bosoms, with little round holes where the studs are only supposed to be placed. These bosoms are absolutely inflexible, and the studs cannot be inserted without the aid of a sledge hammer, which is damaging to the disposition.

The man who will invent a buttonless shirt, which cannot be starched in the neckband, will earn a monument which will be illuminated at night.—Chicago Evening Post.

AND READY TO FIGHT AGAIN

Cat Refused to Be a Party to Proceedings by Which She Officially Died.

Jerry the pet cat of the Stolz family of Bloomfield, N. J., considerably startled his mistress when, the other afternoon, it appeared at the kitchen door after having been buried as dead during the course of the preceding forenoon. Jerry is of a warlike disposition, and during a recent combat, sustained such injuries that the family decided to put him out of misery. Accordingly the garbage man was prevailed upon to place the pet animal in an old tin boiler, pour in chloroform and put on the lid. In a few minutes Jerry was "dead." He was buried and the Stolz children covered the grave of their friend and playmate with flowers. But life to Jerry was sweet, so when Mrs. Stolz opened the kitchen door later, she found him waiting for admittance. Mrs. Stolz screamed and ran, but her husband let the cat in, and declared he would not permit the warrior to be "killed" again.

The average man is as proud of his opinions as he is of his honor, his honesty, or even his pedigree.

ARMY ADMINISTRATION CHANGES ARE PLANNED

General Wood Favors Concentration of Army Strength—Wants to Abandon About One-Half of 160 Posts—Plans Will Be Opposed By Local Interests.

(By RODERICK CLIFFORD.)
Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 8.—A sweeping change in the administration of the army embracing the abandonment of practically one-half of the 160 army posts now in use, is proposed by the War Department, according to the recent admission of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff, before the House committee on expenditures in the War Department.

The announcement by General Wood closely follows that of Secretary Meyer, of the navy, who told the House committee on expenditures in the Navy Department that he contemplated abandoning all but three naval stations on the coasts of the United States.

Concentration is to be the watchword in both the naval and military establishments. The danger attending a possible foreign invasion has prompted the Navy Department to consider the concentration of the naval strength. The mobilization on the Mexican frontier, or rather the difficulty in bringing about an effective mobilization, is behind the conviction of the experts of the War Department that a number of the smaller posts should be abandoned.

"I trust that this committee will not press me to name the army posts that are to be abandoned," said General Wood. "If we were to announce this list in advance it would mean that the Department would be flooded with protests. That has been the trouble heretofore in recommending the abandonment of any post. Local interests are naturally alarmed when it is proposed to abandon any of these posts," said the chief of staff. "They begin to offer objections, and, in many instances, they offer good ones. Yet, the good of the service demands that a number of the smaller posts be consolidated. If I have my way, we will abandon perhaps one-half of the posts. I may say frankly that we now have a board at work on this problem. The board is composed of experts from the Army War College and War Department itself, and, as soon as the board is able to make its report, I shall ask the consent of Congress to a plan to concentrate our strength at central points."

General Wood admitted that the recent mobilization of troops on the Mexican frontier had not been an entire success. Viewed from the standpoint of a skeleton division, the mobilization, said the chief of staff, had been a success. If one considers the mustering of the war strength of a division, as frankly admitted by General Wood, the mobilization had been a failure. After two months acknowledged Gen. Wood, no regiment had been brought to its full war strength, and those that approached it had been supplemented with recruits.

"We were not equipped with a reserve supply of artillery, ammunition or other necessities," added General Wood, in explaining why the mobilization had been only a partial success.

"Scattered garrisons," said General Wood, "have made the instruction of officers in command of large bodies of troops practically impossible."

General Wood predicted that there will be considerable objection to the abandonment of any post that may be selected by the army board.

"What kind of influence is brought to prevent the abandonment of these posts?" inquired Chairman Helm of the committee. "Is it political?"

General Wood replied that it was not necessarily political, but that the merchants, citizens and officials of any city naturally would fight a plan to take soldiers away from their particular locality.

Although General Wood did not furnish the House committee with the names of the posts that are to be abandoned by the army, he indicated that the garrisons of the far west would be hardest hit. Many of these smaller posts, observed the general, were established at a time when Indian outbreaks were a serious menace to the communities where they occurred. Of late years, it was pointed out, the Indians have become more peaceful, and it is not now necessary to maintain such a strict watch over them.

"In some Western States," continued the general, "there are perhaps a half dozen small garrisons which might well be combined into one." He suggested to the committee that it would be better to concentrate these soldiers at one point, rather than maintain separate establishments at places that are more or less inaccessible.

General Wood admitted that the government had spent many thousands of dollars in recent years in equipping some of these army posts. And yet, he urged, it will be better to abandon these posts and sell the buildings to the highest bidder than to maintain them at a pecuniary loss and great inconvenience to the United States government.

"Heretofore we have rather hesitated to come before Congress and urge the abolition of posts upon which so much money has been spent," he explained, "and it may be for this reason that the War Department has so long neglected to recommend the needed changes. I have no criticism to make of former administrations, nor of the appropriations they have received from Congress for the upkeep of these garrisons, but we are planning to do away with the old regime, and to concentrate our strength."

"There is bound to be objection to our plan from those who are interested in keeping the posts in the respective localities, but I can promise the committee that the next estimates sent to Congress will contain recommendations for the abandonment of the smaller posts which we consider as detrimental to the service because of their inaccessibility, and the fact that the garrisons are too widely scattered."

General Wood explained that by a "small post" he meant a post that quartered less than one regiment, and he added that the larger portion of the army is scattered over the country in this manner.

The plans of the Navy Department and the War Department are destined to bring about a fight in the House and the Senate, as the delegations in Congress from the various States affected by the proposed "concentration" will be urged by their constituencies to prevent any action that will remove the sailors and soldiers—and their spending money—from the navy yards and army garrisons.

General Wood told the committee that he expected this, and the committee in turn assured the chief of staff that, when the time comes to retrench, the head of the army will receive the support at least of the members of the committee now engaged in an investigation of the expenditures of the War Department.

Honest Medicines Versus Fakes.

President Taft's recent message suggesting an amendment to the Pure Food and Drugs law in its relation to Prepared Medicines, does not refer to such standard medicines as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and Foley's Kidney Pills, both of which are true medicines carefully compounded of ingredients whose medicinal qualities are recognized by the medical profession itself as the best known remedial agents for the diseases they are intended to counteract. For over three decades Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been a standard remedy for coughs, colds and affections of the throat, chest and lungs for children and for grown persons, and it retains today its pre-eminence above all other preparations of its kind. Foley Kidney Pills are equally effective and meritorious. Howard Gardner.

HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Assailants of State Senator Bilbo Waive Preliminary Hearing.

Starkville, Miss., July 8.—J. V. Henry, former penitentiary warden, was formally charged with assault and battery with intent to kill today in connection with his encounter with State Senator Theodore Bilbo aboard a railroad train here yesterday. J. G. Nichols was arrested on similar charges. Nichols, it is alleged, held other occupants of the car at bay while the affray between Henry and Bilbo was in progress.

Henry and Nichols waived preliminary hearing and were required to furnish $1,000 bonds to await the action of the grand jury.

PATRIOTS RETURN FOR SIX GAMES ON LOCAL DIAMOND

Play Anderson First Half of Week, While Greenville is Heree Last Three Days.

Doyle and his bunch of Patriots will return today from Greenville where during the latter half of the week they captured three out of four games played. Kelly will bring his Electricians over from Winston where they failed to short circuit but one game. Had the Kellyites taken three of the four games played in Winston Greensboro would have been willing to give the Electricians a still further boost in the percentage column, but as they failed almost as utterly as did Greensboro they have nothing to expect except three drubbings.

While Anderson is playing in Greensboro the Twins will be in Spartanburg trying conclusions with the Musicians and the Spinners will be holding down the boards for the Hornets in Charlotte. The latter half of the week Greenville will be here, while Anderson goes home to play the Twins and Charlotte will go to Spartanburg.

At present Winston has a lead of six boys, or 95 points, on the Greensboro boys, while the remainder of the clubs are very nearly together all of them being in the 400 division. A few games can materially shift the standing of the teams, excepting Greensboro and Winston. Greensboro still has a chance to end on the top rung, but the Twins have got to fall from their present gait if this is done. They have won seven out of the eight games played this week, while Greensboro dropped five out of the same number.

SWINDELL FANNED FOURTEEN OF KELLY'S MEN YESTERDAY

Winston-Salem, July 8.—Swindell struck out fourteen of Anderson's batsmen, and as the Twins hit opportunely the game was a walkover for the locals 4 to 0. Wolfe was also in good form, but his work did not begin to compare with that of Swindell, who had everything, yielding five hits, but being very strong in pinches. Only once did Anderson get a man on third, then Swindell struck out the batter.

The game was one of the prettiest played in the field of the season. The Twins played an errorless game, the work of Clancy and Gates being very fast in the infield. Taylor made two errors for Anderson, but neither of them counted in the scoring. Schumaker lifted one over left field fence in the fourth, this being the feature of the batting. Jim Kelly hit safely three times out of four times at bat, getting more than half of his team's safeties.

DIAMOND DUST

Wonder what Winston thinks of the attendance upon the last game played here?

Over one third of all the people of the Carolina League who witnessed a baseball game last Tuesday, were attendants upon the game at Cone Park.

Winston is still climbing.

Had to give the Spinners one game.

Welcome to Anderson.

We want revenge on Anderson because she did not hold the Twins down better.

Game tomorrow called at 4:30 o'clock.

Doak is something of a slabman, even if he did lose his game.

The Patriots pounded Ridgeway for ten singles, but they did not come at the proper time.

Hope the Spartans will play a lively tune for Clancy's men and take a couple of games.

Charlotte is still holding third place.

Let's give Doyle's men some encouragement tomorrow by filling the grand stand and bleachers.

Baseball all this week at Cone Park.

Anderson at Greensboro.
Winston at Spartanburg.
Greenville at Charlotte.

DOAK OUTPITCHED RIDGWAY BUT LOST HIS GAME

Special to Telegram.

Greenville, July 8.—Although Doak outpitched Ridgeway as a whole he was not as steady at dangerous moments and assisted by two untimely errors the Greenville Spinners finally succeeded in conquering the Patriots and sending them back to their old stand of six games behind Winston in the league standing. The game was exciting from the viewpoint of the Greenville fans with their team doing most of the scoring, for Greensboro never really had a look-in during the game as their hits came at distant intervals. The perfect support given Ridgeway was no small factor in his safe climb out of several bad holes. The two errors made by the Patriots were also unfortunate and materially aided in the defeat. Although he lost his game Doak showed excel-

CHARLOTTE TAKES FOURTH OF SERIES FROM MUSICIANS

Charlotte, July 8.—Charlotte made a clean sweep of the series with Spartanburg by capturing the fourth game by a score of 7 to 6 after a hard, uphill but successful fight. Both Hankie and Ferrell were batted heavily, but the former had much the better of the argument at critical times. The Hornets played gamely and overcame the three run lead by desperate efforts at the bat. The entire hive of insects was wearing their glad rags and they stung the ball hard and often for long, safe hits. Ferrell was fortunate in keeping the large total of hits made off him well scattered and thus diminishing the score. The game was devoid of special features beyond the unremitting interest maintained by the closeness of the score and the evenness of the play of the teams.
